NOTE FOR: Mr. Duckett

I talked to [redacted]
of OSP at lunch today. They were most anxious to determine how they could sort out prior and current Agency work in technical fields in which they were proposing programs in their office.

After lunch I showed them the Technical Coordinator List (a copy of which was sent to OSP) and explained in considerable detail the present Agency R&D coordination plan and procedures. I also suggested that it should be a simple matter to have them included in the planning discussions in any technical field in which they had particular interest. I asked, however, that they first identify their interest, using the Technical Fields which are current in the Handbook.
